You have finally arrived!! Today is your day!! You are off to new places and I am so proud of you. You have been wonderfully made for the journey to all the places you will go. I pray that you realize this and trust you do so with humility. You are to be cheered for your many accomplishments and in the manner in which you have conducted yourselves during your high school journey ~ especially during your senior year.

Remember to have TRUE JOY in your lives you must have JESUS first, OTHERS second, and YOURSELF last.

I love you and am so thankful that God has allowed me to be a part of your lives.

~~ Cindy J
